USA

The majority of American colleges and universities use the “Common App” – but verify on school website!

Create an account and apply at www.commonapp.org

Since Covid, many American universities are no longer requiring standardised tests (SAT or ACT) as part of the Admissions process; however, some schools might require so you need to verify. Also, if you score very well, you may want to include the test results to improve your dossier. The results may also be required in order to receive financial aid.

Most students take the SAT for the first time in the spring of 11th grade (en Première année). You may also want to take it in the Fall of your 12th grade (Terminale) year if you want to improve your score. Effective Spring, 2023, the S.A.T. tests for international students will be “digital”.
